The $ Archetypes Part IV: The Pleasure Seeker

As we continue this month with the archetypes let me once again explain that we usually have a combination of these patterns at play. It's healthy to have a balance of The Guardian, The Empire Builder and the Idealist for example. In fact it's been reported that very successful people exhibit at least 3 or more types. Throughout this series I offer you an exploration of each type along with tapping scripts to help you balance those that are running amok in your finances.
